The South Sees Hoover
Cheerful Mr. Simpson
Old Hears Need Care

—By Arthur Brisbane—

CONGRATULATIONS to Secretary Wilbur, who is ordered for our navy two dirigibles that will be the biggest in the world.

They will be three times as big as the Los Angeles, the third bigger than the German giant Goetz Zeppelin, and each will carry under the great gas bag five airplanes for scouting.

The Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation will build them and friendly nations abroad are informed that we do not intend to be taken by surprise.

A fleet of such dirigibles, each carrying 50 tons of explosives and modern war gas, able to unleash 100 fast, destructive planes, could leave with Uncle Sam's compliments a visiting card in Europe or Asia that would not soon be forgotten.

We make war on no nation, but we should be ready and able to fill with subsequent regret anyone attacking us.

Mr. Hoover was warmly received in Tennessee and elsewhere in the South. His declaration in favor of a protective tariff and protective immigration laws were particularly applauded.

The South becomes more and more an industrial region, with immense natural wealth in coal, iron, water power and climate. It has long been said that many southerners vote the Democratic ticket and pray for the Republican ticket.

This year many will vote as they pray.

Anything approaching a free trade Democratic policy would crack the solid South, with no other complication.

This year, however, as Mr. Marshall says, that Democratic party advocates high tariff and high wages.

James Shannon, head and owner of Marshall Field & Co., in Chicago, said that Hoover and his associates are the cause of a "prosperity" great. "Our sales are larger this year than for any like period in the history of the store."

Mr. Shannon said that Hoover and his associates are the cause of a "prosperity" great. "Our sales are larger this year than for any like period in the history of the store."

Governor Smith is the first Democratic candidate in many years not feared by big business interests.

William W. Brock, retired business man, fell dead while playing golf last Saturday. He was 64 years old.

At 64 make no violent effort, unless a good doctor has pronounced your heart "too good."

Golf is good for old men that play as they should, talking, laughing, walking slowly. It's dangerous for those that strain and strive to better their game.

Remember, old gentlemen, that whether you go around to 120 or 160, the counts will roll on, just the same. Treat an old heart as you would a delicate vase, not as you would treat an old rubber ball.

A dirigible, the Puritan, made by Goodyear, landed gently yesterday on a roof in Washington, remained five minutes, flew away.

That will interest Postmaster New and President Coolidge, who have made the postoffice efficient in aviation development.

They will want postoffices in big cities with air mail landings on the roofs. That should begin with plastic postoffices in New York and Chicago.

"Bome" of the mail now goes by airplane. "All" first class mail will go by airplane.

Also passengers will travel more and more by air. Coolidge announces that the cross country trip by Pullman car and airplane will be faster.

Pullman cars will take passengers to Columbus, O. via the Pennsylvania railway. There will fly to the coast, sleeping in the plane at night, making the trip from coast to coast in forty-eight hours. That is trying progress.

Big New York, with about seven million people, and on its way to twenty millions, has about 125,000 new babies born each year, including 150,000 sets of twins on the average, and only nine sets of triplets.

120 BARNS IN CHARLESTON MRS. WILLEBRANDT SAYS Eighty Fly in Zeppelin on Last Trip

WIVES OF CREW TAKEN ON FLIGHT BEFORE BIG AIRSHIP SAILS FOR U. S.

When the super-dirigible first started its flight from Friedrichshafen in New York the representatives of only the largest newspaper picture service and newspaper will be allowed aboard the Zeppelin, public relations representatives.

And to get the real inside story of the history-making flight— from the moment the dirigible rises from its moorings in Germany to the end of the trip— it will have to read the Boston Evening American.

Friedrichshafen, Oct. 8 (AP)—Germany's great super-dirigible first (Count) Zeppelin started on its last flight from Friedrichshafen in New York the representatives of only the largest newspaper picture service and newspaper will be allowed aboard the Zeppelin, public relations representatives.

Today's flight was characterized as a sort of "joy ride" for the crew.

Planned to take place on Oct. 13, Column 2.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Herbert Hoover is certain to carry Tennessee and Virginia, and has an "over-chance" of winning North Carolina and Alabama. It was declared here today by members of his "board of strategy" in summarizing the effects of his one-day invasion of the solid South.

SLAIN MAN'S WIDOW HEARS HOPPE PLEA

Garbed in black, the widow of Patrolman Alfred N. Hollis of the Quincy police, who died in the Superior Court at Dedham, today and intently watched Stephen Hoppe, his defendant, as that argument was made in the murder trial.

She hardly took her eyes off his face as the closing arguments were made, during which the prosecution, Asst. Dist. Atty. William P. Kelley, demanded a verdict of guilty of first degree murder for the "ghastly and foul crime."

His wife knew his fate before another dawn. The case goes to the jury today.

Mrs. Hollis, young mother of three small girls, was accompanied to the trial room by her mother, James Delaney of Quincy. The alleged slayer says no sign that he knew her and did not display any emotion, simply standing in a corner of the prisoner's cage, unconsciously chewing gum, as his counsel fought for his life.

Branding Hoppe as "a thief, a crook and a scoundrel," but "not a murderer," Attorney James T. Chas. defense attorney, took up the cudgels for his client with impassioned words, appealing for an acquittal.

The prosecutor's plea was in part a defense of Helen Hoppe, event.

ARREST 35 AS MILLS OPEN IN NEW BEDFORD

New Bedford, Oct. 8.—Thirty-five members of the radical group of mill workers were arrested today for trying to prevent other employees going to work, as the mills reopened after 25 weeks of strike idleness.

Several hundred police, including detachments from Taunton, Fall River and other cities and towns, proceeded order at the gates.

None of the leaders were on hand. Many of the mills opened on half time while others began operations in some departments only.

The machinery has to be removed to working condition in some cases and there is a lack of orders. Due to the strike, owners wish to have a market provided before starting operation.

Thousands of workers who are affected by the strike are still unemployed.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 8 (AP).—In anticipation of the start of Germany's huge new dirigible Graf Zeppelin for the United States, Friedrichshafen has virtually become one vast tourist hotel.

To forestall a threatening revolt of the wives of directors, and officers which was seen to be brewing in their homes, the commodore let down the bars for tomorrow. "I call to his fiancée because I never thinks or talks of anything else. If the house were afire and the family in danger, my husband would think first of saving the Zeppelin, I am sure."

Frau von Schiller, the wife of another of the officers of the Zeppelin, would like nothing better than to take a hand in the construction of the new airship cabin. She has made trips with her husband in former days, and is equally as well versed in the technicalities as he is.

There is a touch of the heroine in Frau Lehmann, who in her heart of hearts is miserable to see her husband go away on the Zeppelin, but would not for the world admit it.

The Lehmann household is one of the brightest in the Zeppelin colony. Frau Lehmann is devoted to the Pekinese dogs, one named China and the other Gollo. Her husband is a musician, like Dr. Eckener, and is ardently devoted to the accordion. He will carry one of these instruments on the trip.

heart of the defendant, who appeared as a government witness. Cassidy, on the other hand, denounced her.

Commenting on the testimony

"Lund has such an excellent memory that he can tell you the exact square, pile, and stack of coffee, and that he is a mustard on the sandwich this night, a year ago, that he snuggled up to his wife and he says Hoppe," said Cassidy. "He can remember whether he worked at that time or whether he worked as a farmer or tailor or what not."

Cassidy characterized as "stupid and absurd" the statement of Lund that he stooped down and lighted a cigarette while he was in the sink a match from "Hoppe."

"Are you going to believe that empty-headed boy at romance as a witness and Fletcher who could not identify pictures, or are you going to believe Hickey, the young man who came here without a blemish without a record? They want you to believe the evidence of Hel Brudshaw, which all boiled down that she couldn't remember date."

"People who knew Hoppe with nothing was in the air never saw him limp. They said he did not limp. You saw him walk and you say that he limped?"

Casidy finished by appealing to

STATE'S ARGUMENT

In the State's closing argument, Asst. Dist. Atty. William P. Kel called on the jury to believe the testimony of Lund, Westberg and Fletcher that they saw Hoppe and Quincy a few hours before the shooting.

"The identification by Fletcher of this man was a positive one," said Kelley. "The defense attorneys could not shake that man Fletcher on one bit of his testimony."

Kelley pointed out that the witness said Hoppe limped. He called attention to Hoppe's face for comparison with Webster's description of a man with sharp features. "I said there was nothing clearer or more positive than the identification of Hoppe at the Vermont state prison."

"We produced Miss Bradshaw and Mrs. Gray as witnesses with knowledge that they were friends of the defendant and could have been criticized for not doing so," said.

"Don't forget that perhaps the man, the defendant, is responsible for Helen's present mode of life. True she didn't tell the truth when she went on the stand the first time but when you analyze her story you will find that she did tell the truth later and her testimony is correct."

WEE WANDERER RETURNS

OLDEST IN HIGHEST COURT

Great Barrington, Oct. 3.—Permission to exhume at least six more bodies from the cemetery in Water st., in an effort to identify the victim of a 15-year-old murder, will be sought today by Chief of Police William J. Aschman of this town.

Fred Eichstedt, an Alford farmer, is in custody charged with the slaying, while Ralph Rounds, former employee of Eichstedt, is held in default of $10,000 as an accessory after the fact. Another man is being sought.

Examination of two bodies exhumed within the last 48 hours failed to disclose their identity and they will be re-interred today in the local Potter's field from which they were taken.

The charge against Eichstedt is that he murdered an "unknown person" believed to have been Charles Carlson, a Bridgeport, Ct., pedlar. Among the other six bodies to be exhumed, Chief Oseman is confident will be found a skull bearing marks of the gunshot wounds by which it is alleged the man met his death at Eichstedt's hands in a swamp on the outskirts of this town.

Meanwhile State troopers are searching nearby woods for the third man wanted in connection with the crime and were convinced he would be found near a shack on the Alford hills.

A romance begun between school chums in South Africa, moved a step nearer its happy culmination today when Miss Grace Butler of Cape-town stepped off the steamship Scythia at East Boston to be met by her sweetheart, Otto Brune of Pittsfield.

Both hurried from the pier to catch a train at the North Station for the Berkshire town, where they will be wed as soon as the technicalities of the marriage laws have been complied with.

A mid-ocean storm, encountered by the Scythia on October 3 and 4 had no terrors for two women passengers, who also debarked at East Boston.

New York, Oct. 2.—Seventeen men, ten of whom were picked up in the gutters, are dead, and 57 others are in Manhattan and Brooklyn hospitals today as poison and bad booze registered its worst week-end toll since New Year's.

"Smoke" or raw alcohol which is mixed with a chemical to soften its burning effect, is given as the chief cause of the unusually heavy toll, while private stills in the slum districts are blamed.

Norman H. White of Brookline was to be arraigned before Judge Keady in the superior criminal court late today for sentence on his plea of guilty to five out of 25 counts of larceny from Boston banks.

Several years ago White was prominent in politics. He was representative from Brookline for five years, then a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor and later a candidate for Congress.

CARDS OUT FOR ART EXHIBIT—BETTY ALDEN

Mr. Benjamin Bowen Invites Society to View Works of His Brush Depicting Scenes in Faraway Lands

"TO MEET MR. BENJAMIN BOWEN," reads a small white card of invitation. And what's so unusual in that, you'll remark. Occurrences of nearly every day, these days, when artists of greatest note become the least ferocious of social lions, and their paintings or sculptures reveal many arresting beauties against the velvet hush walls of small and intimate galleries. Very true it is that up to a certain point the Bowen tea and exhibition is but one of the several autumnal artistic indulgences prepared for a discriminating clientele. Beyond that point imagination may have free rein and gallop away into the storybook life Mr. Bowen has lived these last score of years and that has provided an abundance of riches for his busy brush.

Boston Evening American Staff Photograph
HOME AGAIN FOR SEASON'S STAY
Miss Elizabeth Beal spends the winter in Boston, not London, this year and so may devote much time to a favorite good work, the junior division of the S. P. C. C.

JUST 20 YEARS AFTER HE LEFT IT LAST, THIS PAINTER WITH facile brush and a roving tendency is once again, temporarily, in Boston. And even 20 years is a short span for Mr. Bowen when spent in faraway spots romantically beautiful enough to fill his heart's desire. A Breton village for several years provided its sweet simplicities of life and landscape for brush material. Brown-sailed fishing boats out at dawn and blue nets spread to dry on sunny slopes took permanency on his canvases. Then away he went about the world; to China, that immense and fantastically conglomerate land; and thence to the glaring deserts finally to set up his household goods and painting kit on the edge of sun-drenched wastes in Algeria.

THERE IN A PALM FRINGED PARADISE HIS CHARMED EXISTENCE passes; in the manner of a feudal baron he is lord of all he surveys with a score of faithful retainers to serve him at home and attend him abroad. The marvel is that Mr. Bowen can drag himself away from such glowing beauty and romantic setting for a Boston interlude. However, it affords old friends here an opportunity for greeting the wanderer, and gives Mrs. Frederick W. Spring the privilege of staging the tea and exhibition. She, it is, who has sent out the cards for the afternoon of October 10, when Mr. Bowen is the lion and his paintings the exhibit, in the rose room of the Hotel Sheraton. And in a way this is something of a hail and farewell only, since the Bowen trunks soon are packed and the Bowen kit strapped for a long, long journey that swings an arc to China and then Africa.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, THE SOCIETY MAID WHO FOLDS AWAY butterfly wings in favor of sober everyday work at something or other is the most faithfully industrious of mortals. Miss Elizabeth Beal is a shining example. I venture to announce that this daughter of aristocracy takes her voluntary "helping" at the S. P. C. C. no less seriously than does a bright-eyed secretary her bread and butter office duties. Miss Beal's pater and mater, the Boylston Adams Beals, sit on Olympus social heights with the great ones. And since Beal, pater, has relinquished his connection with the American embassy in London, the family is planning a Boston instead of a London winter. And that means that Miss Beal will be very often at the Division headquarters.

AND NOW COMES A DEFINITE ANSWER to that oft-put question: "When does the new wing of the Art Museum open?" Slowly, oh, so very slowly, has the new Wing and its enclosed Garden taken on the shape and permanence envisioned several years ago by ardent ones of the trustees. The garden, naturally, isn't yet in the smith of its balustraded or green awarded perfection. Another spring's burgeoning, not the approaching sere and yellow leaf, brings that perfection about. The wing itself is so nearly complete that a half hundred galleries and rooms await the visitors' coming. November 14 to 20 is set apart to subscribers, specially privileged to view the decorative art of Europe and America, of 13th to 19th century selection.

CONNOISSEURS WILL logically go wild-eyed over period ecclesiastical, period rooms, "pieces" of this and that century and authentic sets purchased by or donated to the Museum. This thing of presenting to the new wing some treasured possession is become a delightful habit with Bostonians. Enrichment of the Museum is one result of this liberal-mindedness, and a very proper sense of complicity affixes the donor. So naturally both sides are pleased. Tapestry, perhaps, pewter, silver or something in texture, a cherished miniature or a priceless jetton arrive with a pleasing frequency to be added to the gift of this or that prominent Bostonian. A most recent listing includes Mrs. Horatio Lamb's gift of an Adam doorway, Chauncey Cushing Nash presents wrought iron sadirons.

WHEN LOWELL THOMAS ventured into "forbidden" Afghanistan," he had not the faintest idea, of course, that eventually Norfolk House Center would benefit thereby. Such is the result, however, via the lecture platform and the moving picture. Thursday evening, November 8, in Symphony Hall, he will speak and Norfolk House Center will nationally benefit. And the ever-present committee includes Mrs. Karl Adams, Miss Mary Bradlee, Mrs. David Cheever, Miss Anna W. Cutler, Miss Katherine Homans, and so on, through a goodly listing of philanthropically inclined individuals possessed of the time and the temperament so useful when benefits are to be successfully staged.

SLOWLY THE "AVENUE" COMES TO LIFE AND BEACON ST. opens hitherto shuttered windows to glimpse the Garden's autumnal coloring. Some of the first families desert the summer establishment for the town abode and so breathe a bit of the breath of life into aristocratic thoroughfares. The John Reed Posts will soon be at their Marlboro' estate. Summer at the Shere ends for Frederick R. Sears and Miss Eleanor Sears. The Frederic R. Edmund Kents are at their Gloucester st. place.

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—Faith healing would be given the official stamp of approval of the Protestant Episcopal Church under a resolution prepared by a special committee on that subject which will be submitted to the general convention of the church at its opening meeting Wednesday.

Theological schools, the resolution as it is, would be given the official stamp of approval of the Protestant Episcopal Church under a resolution prepared by a special committee on that subject which will be submitted to the general convention of the church at its opening meeting Wednesday.

The resolution says further that "throughout the Christian world the power in faith to produce results in the material as well as the spiritual world is no longer the hope of a few, but the belief of a rapidly increasing number of persons; that the power and faith to produce such results is capable of being demonstrated explicitly if not scientifically."

A new move toward church union and unity that is regarded as more promising of tangible results than those of recent years, will be made at the convention. It is expected that the Right Rev. Charles M. Brent, bishop of the diocese of western New York, and the world's outstanding leader in the cause of church unity, will sponsor the new plan.

A proposal will be submitted that overtures be made by the Protestant Episcopal Church, North and South, and the Presbyterian Church, North and South, to discuss questions of moral theology with a view to finding true common ground among these denominations.

APPEAL FOR $100,000 FOR PORTO RICO MASONS
San Juan, Porto Rico, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Masonic Grand Lodge of Porto Rico today appealed to all Grand Masonic bodies of the world to contribute at least $100,000 for the relief of distressed brethren of this island. The representative here of the Masonic Service Association of the United States at the same time asked that a fund of $100,000 available there be transferred to his order by cable.

In its world-wide appeal the island grand lodge stated that the hurricane losses of Masons here totaled between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Our friendly little plot brought happiness to Irene

IRENE was one of the most attractive girls in our crowd. Yet one grave fault kept her unpopular.

Ellen and I longed to help her. But it was such a personal matter.

Finally we devised a little plot. Pretending to discuss a girl she had met at a recent party, Ellen said—

"... and she might have been the bit of the party! But 'B. O.'—you know, body odor—is unpardonable...."

Irene glanced up sharply. A flash of understanding crossed her features....

Our friendly little plot worked wonders. Today Irene is happy, popular. She has hosts of friends. And all because she found an easy way to get rid of "B. O." Irene tells her own interesting story below. Read it.

"B. O." unpardonable—end it!
"Like lots of other people, I, too, was fooled by body odor. I thought I was safe when I wasn't. I didn't realize that our pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste a day even in cool weather; or that this odor becomes so familiar to us that we can't tell when we offend.

"Then I discovered Lifebuoy—now I'm never afraid of 'B. O.' With its antiseptic lather, Lifebuoy deodorizes pores. After a Lifebuoy bath one actually does feel cleaner, fresher.

Healthier complexes, too
"Lifebuoy is so soothing and mild, it agrees splendidly with my skin. Keeps it clear and smooth.

"And it gives such wonderful lather and gets rid of germs, too. No wonder the whole family are Lifebuoy fans. Its pleasant and clean scent vanishes as soon as you rinse."

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Remove the Film: Teeth Grow Whiter

You merely think your teeth are dull, "off color." The new dental way amazes — it combats serious tooth and gum disorders, too.

MOVE your tongue over your teeth. You will feel a slippery coating. This is film. Film is the great enemy of teeth and gums—the chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth and gum disorders. Film absorbs the stains from food and smoking and gives that cloudy look. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and...

SEEK 2 WOMEN IN KELHER 'SWINDLE'

A warrant was asked today by detectives for a woman, declared by police to have been the "brains" of the alleged swindle in connection with which William J. "Big Boy" Kelher and two other men are under arrest.

This woman, sought for questioning, eluded detectives for hours, with a result that they decided to arrest her on a larceny charge. It is said that a portion of the $1750 involved in the alleged swindle was given into the custody of this woman for safe keeping.

Her name is withheld, but she is declared to be 40, a fashionable dresser, and owner of an expensive house in Brookline. She is the driver of a costly auto, the police stated. It was also reported the police were seeking a second woman for questioning in the case.

HEARST

SPORTS

IT has been said that the wars that made England dominant for 200 years were first won on the cricket fields of Eton. It is more than possible that America's healthy interest in clean sports has not only helped her win wars but has kept her out of wars.

A nation that stampedes the gates of baseball parks and turns out in crowds of hundreds of thousands to jam football stadiums has little time for futile bickerings with other nations. It is better occupied.

There is probably no better augury for the fate of America than its devouring interest in clean sports. For hundreds of thousands of readers, the sports pages of the newspaper claim first attention.

What happened at the Polo Grounds in New York—on the tennis courts of Wimbledon—the golf links at Scioto or St. Andrews—cinder path, race track, or swimming tank—whatever happens, whenever and wherever it happens—blow and inning, stroke and play, speed and finish—it is promptly, accurately, dramatically, and authoritatively recounted for the more than twenty million readers of the Hearst Newspapers by the master writers of every branch of sport, and later analyzed by the principals in most of the contests.

Only a great newspaper organization could cover sports on such a scale as do these newspapers.

Through no other channel can the sport-loving people of America obtain such full and colorful pictures of the outdoor things in which they are interested.

This fact holds the allegiance of fans, and in this one way alone Hearst Newspapers render a great national service by the part they play in fostering in the minds of young America a lively interest in clean sport—in helping to maintain this in the healthy minds of a nation of sport-loving people.

HOOVER WILL CAPTIVE INDIANA VOTE, POLL ANALYST SAYS

Heard Papers' NATIONAL POLLS

SEE PAGE 1 FOR
G. O. P.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Indiana might as well be placed definitely in the Hoover column to-day. Except for the Democratic managers, this conclusion is shared by practically every competent observer who has covered the State.

It is no secret in the Hearst poll. The figures today are:

Hoover	29,110
Smith	14,441
Hoover percentage	67

This canvass is representative of the State. It has covered particularly all of the larger cities as well as out across strictly farm territory.

NEAR BY MARGIN

Shortly after the start of the Hearst nationwide poll, Hoover took his lead. This increased steadily as the canvass was pushed out over the State.

What conceivably may happen in Indiana will be the election of Frank Diller, Democrat, to the governor's chair and the winning of the electoral vote by Hoover by a very small margin.

Hoover, even the Democratic chiefs admit, is infinitely stronger than the Republican candidate in this State. He is far and away the outstanding figure in the election. West as the Republican State ticket appears to be, Hoover's advantage had on November 6 may be of such size as to pull the State candidate through by a squeak.

Many of the independent newspapers of the State are advancing support of Hoover and Diller. Nowhere in the State, except in the steel mill and refinery country along the Lake Michigan shore, is there any Republican election worth noting, so far as Hoover goes.

REFORMERS AID

On the other hand, virtually all reform elements in the Democratic party, while making the welkin ring for their candidate for governor, are lining up behind Hoover in preference to Smith.

Hoover newspaper canvassers, supplementing the postcard poll, have just returned from a tour of the north half of the State outside of Lake country. They covered such cities as Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, Elkhart, Kokomo, Logansport, Wabash, Marion, Muncie, Richmond, Newcastle, Plymouth, Hartford City and Decatur.

WOMEN FOR HOOVER

In only three of these spots, Plymouth, Hartford City and Decatur, is Governor Smith shown standing up in a convention battle with Hoover.

The canvassers report the same story on all the other places, that Hoover leads slightly in the men's votes, but getting the two to one of the women vote.

Some of the Republican managers predict Hoover will carry the State by more than 10,000 votes, and to bet their shakles on that figure. The estimate may be too high, but anyway the situation is analyzed for today, both in the Hearst poll and reliable information from the canvass, Indiana is in the Hoover column.

What Doctors Think

Laxative Habit

In all history, no Indian was ever found to have constipation.

They ate the bark of the cascara tree, and had the easy cascara.

Cascara is a natural bowel purgative. It is a natural laxative habit. If already formed, an occasional cascara usually breaks the habit. For cascara strengthens the muscular walls of the bowels and their need of any aid at all grows constantly less. Real other cathartics do this—cascara does it better.

The writer knows of no other.

An evacuation brought gently about by cascara is followed by full functioning of the bowels on the morning—and for days after.

Physicians feel as cascara is the ideal active laxative for the bowels.

HOOVER CHIEFS 35 ARRESTED IN NEW BEDFORD 'SOLID SOUTH' STRIKE CRISIS

was cheered as hundreds of telegrams reached him with congratulations on his ill-fated, Tenn. speech.

The Hoover campaign meanwhile has been high gear. Chief Justice Evans Hughes, standard bearer of the 1916 campaign, and William E. Borah, the "Lone Wolf" of Idaho, will share the limelight with the winners during the last month of the campaign.

Other speakers will be broadcast in the East and West every morning and evening until election day.

BIRTH TO SPEAK HERE. Borah, just concluding a long swing through the West, will return here this week to confer with Hoover. Then he will leave again on a tour of six states—West Virginia, New York, Connecticut, Jersey, Idaho, Nevada and Massachusetts.

He will speak in New York city toward the close of the campaign.

Hughes will open his speaking tour in behalf of Hoover at Seattle, Wash., within the next two weeks. Then he will make four more prepared addresses, closing the campaign in Florida.

He also will speak in Massachusetts and update New York, according to present plans.

Hughes will make two more speeches in the East, one at Boston Oct. 15 and the other at New York city October 22. He may add a third for the last week of October before he leaves for his California home to vote.

DRIVERS HIT SPEECH. Hoover began drifting his Boston speech today. He will probably give a speech on the tariff, general economy and scientific administration, as his speech in the month will be directed toward the industrial groups of New England.

He will visit Worcester, Springfield and Newbury, while on route to Boston.

He may be persuaded to remain in Boston overnight and visit either in Connecticut and Rhode Island the following day.

The Governor has striven constantly to cut down the number of speakers during the campaign. He intends to make at most not more than 12 speeches during the campaign. Six of these he has delivered in the West. His future on the East in the final two weeks of the campaign.

Smith will leave Albany tomorrow for New York for conferences with party leaders before proceeding to Tennessee on Thursday.

Today, in the real estate parlance of the Glorious Age, will find some of the most important for the nation.

GLORIA SWANSON SLIPS BY SUMMONS SERVER

New York, Oct. 8 (AP)—Despite the handicap of having to conceal ailing Miss Swanson, she has been featured in a circus special, Gloria Swanson, film star, was still successful today in eluding a summons server.

Her Cohen, private detective, would serve upon her a summons to court.

Cohen is asking $22,000 damages, alleging Miss Swanson's picture features and her reputation were harmed by a summer in a circus.

on the schedule for the second week, but whether there will be other dates seemed doubtful today.

There has been good deal of talk about a drive on Ohio state, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus are being considered. Today it seemed probable that Smith would speak at all in that State. It is the same with Indiana.

TIGER LOVE

EUSTACE HALE BALL

The Amazing Story of a Dancer of the Night

CHAPTER I

AND so came the final night of the village New Year festival, celebrated, according to the custom of the land, in early April.

Tremulous young maidens gliding secretly from the shadowy doorways of their parents' huts to clasp the hot hands of their lovers. . . . Older women stumbling less eagerly through the darkness by the sides of less gallant spouses. . . . Boys and girls thrilling with a delightful awe. . . . Even the bed-ridden and very aged dragged on litters by the kinsfolk. . . . Every soul in the village obeying the summons of that Oriental creed, hastening at the appointed hour, to join the long procession which would wind its way to the lush green meadow beyond the border of the town where the supreme ceremonies of the spring ritual would be consummated.

Now, entering Mah-jun's, most venerable of all the holy men, ex-priests in the sacred vestments stood before the three-faced idol, torch in hand, stirring with the trouble of his ninety-two years, calling to his side the other priests who were to lead the procession.

Already had his satellites begun their unceremonious shoving and dancing steps. The dull instruments on holy drums and the driving means of native wind instruments set the moonlit air throbbing.

Crowning his incantations and waving the symbol of his gods, old Mah-jun began the march, as the priests and other natives swung in behind. Every human in the long procession was now crooning the sacred words of the ceremonial prayers and awailing with the rhythm of the leaders as they passed from the furthest end of the street into broad pasture field where already burned the sacred fires.

Madji trod the field with renewed radiance in his path, as the thrill of the ceremony sent the blood coursing through his veins as in days of old. He leaped into the midst of the circle of flames, while priests and villagers knelt to headen to his screening prayer.

And then, with a wave of his hand they encircled the holy spot at a respectful distance, as first the holy men of number muscled and later the chosen maidens began the ritual steps of adoration to the spirit above and below the greenward.

As the songs, cries and dances became more frenzied in this scene of religious ecstasy three leading figures entered the other end of the now deserted village.

Along the lonely street, tensed only by pariah dogs, inquisitive goats and sleepless cats, the trio advanced curiously silent among themselves.

PROGRESSIVES ATTACK STATE LABOR BOARD

By BERNARD J. DOWERY.

Severe criticism of the State department of labor and industry, together with a demand for a rigid investigation, is contained in a questionnaire sent to candidates for public office in the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties by the progressive Action Committee of Massachusetts.

The committee is the authorized successor of that group, which, four years ago, conducted the state campaign for La Follette and Wheeler. In that year 10,000 votes were cast for "Fighting Bob," representing 12 1/2 per cent of the total vote of the State.

For this sizable vote leaders of the other parties have been angling for weeks.

The committee intends to call a State conference of progressive leaders about the middle of the month to take action on the stand of the candidates.

In its attack upon the labor and industry department, the committee charges that the laws and regulations passed to protect the health and safety of workers are not enforced.

Miss Maud Cabot, daughter of Francis Higginson Cabot, left Boston today with Miss Margaretta Wheeler for Concord, N. H., to campaign for Governor At Smith and the Democratic ticket in the rural sections of that state.

They plan three speeches daily in section of Mrs. Robert Jackson, now Secretary of the National Committee, Miss Cabot, a sister of Maud, is working daily in Smith headquarters in Boston.

Senator Dumb will make his only Massachusetts address some night this month before the Roosevelt Club at Symphony Hall. It was announced today by Robert M. Washburn, president of the club.

A set-back, however, was not a surprise for the 100,000 who had given the vote to the State.

BAD BOY MAY OR WORKS ON NEW JOB WHISTLING

Salem, Oct. 8.—"Bossy" Gillis went to work today. The red-headed "Bad Boy" mayor of Newburyport was assigned to the jail laundry and went about his duties whistling merrily.

At meals he eat heartily of the plain prison fare, received a visit from a friend in the morning, but connected no official business.

"Bossy" also continued his strike against newspapers and said he had no message for the "waiting world."

Although the "old prison bars" and a two minutes sentence stand between him and his admirers, "Bossy" appears to be the center of attraction for the youth of Salem in the hope of catching a glimpse of the red-headed figure.

Especially is this true of the fall which City females who pick the jail as their objective on strolls. Many girls, most of them of the flapper type, are crowding around the institution daily and expressing their sympathy for the "bold bad boy."

Going to church was a big event on "Bossy's" calendar. He went upstairs with the 100-odd other prisoners, and took a seat in the little chapel. That was for the first service conducted by the jail chaplain, the Rev. J. L. Conner of Calvary Baptist Church. It lasted an hour.

The mayor of Newburyport was snatched with a hymn book, just as were the others, and when the con-

Cousin of "Buffalo Bill," Dead at 100, Was Forty-Niner

Pittsburgh, Oct. 8 (AP)—Captain John Clark Anderson, 100, cousin of William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," is dead after a varied career, including participation in the gold rush of '49. He lived the "100 years or more" as he said he would.

The Indian fighter, who resembled his famed cousin, played steamboats on the Ohio and Cumberland rivers in his early life. He recently retired as a farmer.

At 10 o'clock the second service began, conducted by Edward Parry and the Salvation Army. It lasted three-quarters of an hour.

"Bossy" remained for that too, and sang with the other prisoners again. From the same hymn book. And he listened closely during Ensign Pitts's brief talk.

Mrs. Cross Is Praised for Cooking Aid

Everyone within hearing or seeing distance of the stirring events at the Hotel Statler ballroom will remember the closing seasons of Friday afternoon and evening of the Annual Martha Lee Free Cooking School. The evening audience, which seemed to combine in age all the women who had been attending the previous lectures, of course was composed, and when Martha Lee and Mrs. Cross made their way to the stage of address the great applause was a most impressive expression of approval and a link for the splendid work that has been done in this city. Certainly the spirit within will carry away with them a glowing picture of the esteem in which she is held by the women of Boston and many neighboring towns have been so conspicuously and well received at her talks.

We all know, such a firm source of returns could not last forever, and every day is a day to be remembered. It has been a real convention of housewives, taken seriously with a view to raising the standards of housework. Many problems have been discussed, and hundreds of women who received to make the Cooking School their own by learning questions of real value to themselves and everyone present at the sessions.

To women whose housework has been a source of trouble, a new inspiration to take hold of their duties at hand has been given. And to those for whom cooking is a pleasure, a new method has been shown to make the work even more enjoyable.

The reading of the minor gifts, some amount of fun and interest, the names of the fortunate recipients of the awards follow:

THE WORLD AND HIS WIFE

ARE FOUND at almost any hour enjoying the hospitality and wonderful service in a charming new location. The ideal spot for an intimate, a luncheon or a course dinner. (Laters to the discriminating. At attractive prices. Specials at low as 50c. Eat by candlelight in the atmosphere of old Cairo.

GOOD NEWS! I just received 100 more of those splendid books of health "dos" and "don'ts" for our precious little folks. Balanced menus, health care charts, semi-regular physical record and special weight charts for girls and boys. A book you'll gladly pay considerable for, methinks, but also, it's free to the first 100 who ask for a copy.

FIVE AND TWENTY CHERRIES—large, lusciously ripe cherries, full of rich, flavored juice—are used in the making of just one package of a famous fruit gelatin powder. Add one cup of boiling water and one of cold-cream, a delicate, delightful, delicious dessert. Quencher, tender, try it. Whipped cream and meringue. Five other splendid fruit flavors, too—raspberry, strawberry, lemon and orange.

COMPLETE THE MEAL with an unusually elegant rabbit bread. (With prepared tomato, catsup or pickle relish.) The brown bread comes in a covered, sealed container, ready to heat and eat. 18c. I'm repeating myself, I know, but I can't mention this item too often! It's marvelous!

REMARKABLY GOOD for sandwiches is a new-to-us ham spread. Lightly seasoned, it's a most desirable spread for 3 or 4 ct. tin. Spread on toast rounds and cover with poached egg for breakfast for special treat. And in sandwiches!

THE BEST BUY I've made for a long time is a sealed container of fresh haddock chowder. Truly "the kind mother used to make." 2 cans for 25c and 2 cans will liberally serve four hearty eaters. A wonderful chowder—economical, delicious, time saving.

A SHINY FIND. There's a shine in every drop of a certain liquid shoe polish. "Brilliant, fast, dustless, quick. Keeps shoes bright with least effort. The choice of the particular housewife."

FROM CALIFORNIA comes a brand new honey. Has an orange blossom flavor that's exquisite. The jars are unusual, too—an imitation orange. 75c—and you'll come back for another.

ASK FOR ANOTHER recipe book. A collection of 60 new and delicious ways of serving ham. Illustrated in colors. Contains splendid dinner menus, too. And such recipes! Try the ham slices baked with pineapple—and ham au gratin! And casseroles of ham and rice! Then you'll want to try the other 57.

I DO ASSURE you that you'll be delighted with these food specials if you'll just drop me a line for the where and how much. A loose 2c stamp is appreciated. And don't forget that necessary name and address.

Tastefully yours,

Martha Lee

Success in Cooking

TO have success with cake:

1. Use level measuring.
2. Sift flour before measuring.
3. Gather all ingredients together and measure each into a bowl.
4. Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly—this depends on a good textured cake.
5. Beat cake batter for one to three minutes, after all the ingredients are in. Rich cakes require longer beating than plain cakes.
6. Don't let cake batter stand around after mixing. Have oven at correct temperature and put cake in at once.
7. When baking without a thermometer, or oven regulator, divide the baking time into quarters, and at quarter—cake batter should be done.
8. Don't quarter—cake should be done.
9. When cake is done—
10. It will shrink back when pressed lightly with the finger. Or it shrinks from the sides of the pan.
11. Cut cake quickly on wire rack—do not let it dry out.

Lesson by a Chef

COULD one, come all and come a copy to the Martha Lee Kitchen Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 2:00 p. m. to take advantage of a free cooking lesson, given by Mr. Benedict Cattina, for 25 years chef at the Hotel Lenox.

Mr. Cattina was with us last January, you will remember, and many of you doubtless make regularly the delicious French Fried Potatoes, simple but truly unique and Fried Chicken, that Mr. Cattina taught us at that time. You can expect an even more interesting lesson this year.

Mr. Cattina, an Italian by birth, is the genius who created the culinary specialties which have made the kitchen of the Hotel Lenox for the past 25 years. The marvel is he can admit his art to the more amateur talent of the average American homekeeper.

His lesson starts Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. in something you certainly will not want to miss.

Among the dishes she will prepare will be Chicken à la Mode, de Virginia, Timpano Causo, Salmon with Hollandaise Sauce.

Cleaning the Bowl After Making Cake

A small rubber plate scraper, price ten cents, is a most convenient and economical utensil to use in cleaning "bowl" in which cake, Boston egg whites or cookie mixtures have been prepared. It is equally useful with stiffly beaten egg whites, whipped cream, etc.

Making Sour Cream Salad Dressing

To make sour cream salad dressing, add 1 pt. milk and 1/2 pint of white pepper and paprika to 1 cup sour cream. Beat until thick and light. If liked 2 tins of mild sweet horseradish, drained from vinegar may be added.

Here Is the Way to Unmold the Jelly

To unmold jelly, plunge the mold over into a pan of lukewarm water. Place on serving dish, inverted over the top of the mold. Then invert both and shake when the mold can be easily removed from the jelly.

Lemon Juice Aids in Brining Flavor

Lemon juice added to canned cranberries helps to bring out the cranberry flavor.

Tips for Menu

For tomato omelet cook 1 cup tomatoes with 1 tsp. sugar and 1/4 tsp. salt for 5 minutes. Fry 1 sliced onion in 4 cups butter. Remove onion and mix it with tomatoes, 2 tins prepared mustard and 6 eggs beaten lightly.

Cook as follows: Put in buttered pan and as it cooks lift up with spatula until the mixture is a consistency. Brown, brown underneath, fold and turn on hot plate.

A delicious dessert to serve with this main dish is Phone Whip—1 cup red prunes, 1 tins sugar, 1 tins lemon juice, white of 2 eggs.

Drain prunes and chop fine, add sugar and lemon juice. When the egg whites are beaten stiff fold in the prunes. Bake in sliced baking dish twenty to thirty-five minutes in slow oven. This may be served with whipped cream.

Notre Dame-Navy Battle Is Feature This Week

GAME WILL DRAW BIG CROWD

Harvard Hopes for Opposition From North Carolina; Yale-Georgia Tilt Looks Good

By BILL GRIMES

This week the feature game will be the Navy-Notre Dame battle in Chicago, and despite the fact that the Midshipmen have not broken into the win column and the Irish took it on the chin from Wisconsin, they will play to a capacity crowd.

University of North Carolina will make its second appearance in the stadium against Harvard next Saturday but, aside from the fact that the Irish are well fortified with weapons, little is known of their strength.

Coach Horvath is hoping for a real upset from North Carolina, but the week's besting of Duke team failed utterly in that respect.

Yale will give the University of Georgia a battle in next week's game, but the fact that the Bulldogs last fall, when prevailing Yale from being unanimously proclaimed champions of the East.

Pennsylvania opposes the University of Virginia, for the first time in years, while the big New York armory will be the Fort Belknap, where the University of Pennsylvania will battle in the Polo Grounds.

DARTMOUTH TIT SHOULD WIN

Dartmouth is not expected to have much of a fight, but the fact that the team is composed of a number of players who were in the team last year, and who have been in the team for a number of years, is a good sign.

Crimson Looks Good In Initial Game

As the game progressed, the backs and running guards usually lost the line in forming quick and effective interference for the ball carrier. Still, as successful as was this play in the case, it is questionable whether it will prove much of a ground-sailing weapon against strong teams.

The Crimson line played a wide variety of plays, but it was not until the game got into the fourth quarter that it began to show its true strength. The line was able to hold its own against the opposition's line, and the backs were able to run the ball.

The game was a close one, with the Crimson leading 14-0 at the end of the first half. The opposition was able to score a touchdown in the second half, but the Crimson was able to hold on to its lead.

The game was a good one for the Crimson, and it showed that they were capable of competing with the best teams in the country. The line was able to hold its own, and the backs were able to run the ball.

By TAD Willard K. O. Biggest Thrill for Dempsey

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

New York, Oct. 8.—Jack Dempsey revealed in an exclusive interview today that he expects to be at the "cross roads" of his glamorous career in just about a year, and he recalls at the idea of being an unemployed millionaire.

He will be 34 years old in another year, perhaps an actor no longer, and he will be through forever with the ring. He will be seriously asking himself the question: "What will I do?"

He will have wealth, robust health, fame no doubt, friends galore and a loyal and talented wife, but he will be like a fish out of water. Money isn't everything with Jack. He will be eager and restless to do something worth while, but as he rather plaintively explained today, he will find himself untrained for business and unfitted for a professional career.

"I will be starting all over again, a graduate of the college of hard knocks, and ambitious to succeed in some worth while line of endeavor," said the former heavyweight champion of the world. "What I will do I frankly don't know, but I'm giving it plenty of thought. I'm going to try hard and I think I'll make it."

Dempsey figures he has just about a year to go as an actor. Part of this time he is getting which he is starting on Broadway, and the rest of the time he is waiting for a chance to appear in a picture. He is waiting for a chance to appear in a picture.

The affable and unassuming champion not only frankly discussed his uncertain future, but chatted amiably about his past. Among other things he said: "I think I'm the most outstanding personality I have ever met."

That the "biggest thrill" of his sensational career to him was to be knowned out of the ring in Toledo, O., on July 4, 1919, and to be championed by a man who was a champion of the world.

That he likes the public. That he feels perfectly at home with the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public. That he is a fan of the public, and that he is a fan of the public.

SCHOOL TITLE CONTENDERS ARE UPSET

By DIK McAWENNEY

Schoolboy games of Saturday proved to be a real upset, for the defeat of a state championship for two major teams, Malden and Somerville.

Malden, an overwhelming favorite to defeat Javelin, was outplayed at the latter's home grounds and lost, 13-0.

The Blue and Gold had two opportunities to score, one failed because the Javelin line couldn't be broken at their 1 yard mark. The other went glimmering when Malden lost the punch on Javelin's 23 yard line.

Javelin, flushed with a victory over Salem last week, and too confident of its own power, fell into a defeat at Waltham. Lack of coordination in the backfield and in the line of the Blue and Gold to hold on to the ball led to disaster, as Waltham was always on the move and held when its goal line was threatened.

Brookline defeated a strong B. C. club which by a 13-0 score. Freshly good for a few minutes, and inexperienced Brookline.

The enterprising Lowell high school boys arranged a little surprise party for their visitors, Nashua and New Hampshire. The party was a huge success from a local standpoint as the visiting team was turned back, and "Doc" Lavelle, the Spindale City back, was chief entertainer. The game was a quartet, and the reception to the Nashua team by scoring a touchdown in the second period.

Sullivan provided further diversion after his tally for passing. He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team.

He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team. He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team.

He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team. He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team.

He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team. He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team.

He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team. He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team.

He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team. He was the leading player for the team, and he was the leading player for the team.

VERY day the American publishes two thrilling and interesting stories by authors of recognized standing. Here you can find the latest serial fiction published in generous installments each day.

Why People Eat Too Much Sugar

By DR. BRUCE BRIDEN.

It is a fact that within recent years the American people have increased their per capita consumption of sugar many hundred per cent. I do not recall the exact figures, but it seems to be that, whereas fifty years ago each person on the average consumed about one pound of sugar, each person now consumes over 10 pounds of this fat-making material.

This clearly is why the American candy-eating woman of 20 or over is rapidly becoming a fat woman.

It is well known that children are very interested in eating. They regard to both the quantity and quality of foods they consume. They could easily be taught to eat only very little vegetable food or an excess of meat, or relatively too much of sugar.

It is the result of this fat-making material in childhood and continued afterward, when they no longer have any special purpose. The fat person often feels depressed or mentally anxious when his food is diminished, or may have "that sinking feeling" or faintness, so that he readily gives up at the first attempt at "dieting," or reduction of fat by reduction of sugar.

Now there is an organ in the body called the pancreas. It is one of the digestive glands. It produces the juice called "insulin" to deal with the sugar of the system.

Excess of sugar in the diet overworks the pancreas, and it is the result of this overwork that the pancreas has to "take on extra shift," in medical language, to hyper-secrete or enlarge.

Work of this kind on the pancreas, if continued for a long time, causes diabetes, a disease, a disease, a disease.

Now, if a person who has had a

Tell Child Truth

By CONSTANCE CAMERON.

ON the long trudge ride down town, the wee lad had been prattling, amusing the passengers with his native remarks. It was a wideawake thinking child, and his observations were interesting and so apt and to the point that everyone had turned to look at him.

He was happily enjoying the publicity that his small self was getting for her. Upon passing a huge church, he asked in a penetrating high voice: "Mother, is that church?" The woman laughed. "No, that's the police station," she informed him. This answered her.

Late your trunk on your waist as you can for you can to the left then the right.

As you move your trunk, your arms should point straight front and back. When your left arm is stretched backward, reach for your right hand, then your right arm is stretched backward at shoulder level. Touch your toes with your left leg.

This exercise will give a firm "sneer" to a lax back, will make a thick waistline, and will make a liver that needs stimulating. If you repeat it a dozen times every morning, and evening, it will give you the feeling of absolute well-being. This is the secret of maintaining a young figure.

Keeping Body Supple

By MARIA JERITZA.

THE fountain of youth, which has been the subject of so much discovery, has been found by modern women. Nowadays at 50 the average woman feels that she has begun to learn how to live and get the best from life. This very enthusiasm, this eagerness for new things, keeps her young.

Youth is not a matter of years, but of mental attitude. Wholesome hygiene living after the manner of the young averages modern women, whether 15 or 19.

Those who are active in mind and body usually remain young the longest. By exercising energy, they create energy. An abundance of active exercise is necessary as much as regular hours of rest—good breathing and moderate eating.

The arms and legs set a fair amount of exercise in the usual routine of the day. It is the trunk, which is the straight line, that

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.

2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

- 3-Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
- 4-Pose the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
- 5-Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
- 6-Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.
